

BUYING INSURANCE

Mrs Wong bought a life insurance policy for her husband. After signing the agreement, she asked her insurance agent: 'How much can I get back if my husband is dead tonight?'

The insurance agent smiled and replied: 'Oh, you'll get around 30 years of imprisonment.'

THE LAUNDRY

One afternoon, Nancy was so angry. She went to the laundry shop and spoke angrily to the shop manager: 'You said that your shop provides good service but now you look at this!' She showed the manager a thick rope.

After the manager had examined the thick rope, he said: 'Oh, this thick rope looks good.'

Nancy shouted angrily: 'Looks good? You know, it's a curtain when I gave you!'

EXPRESSING LOVE

Early in the morning, Selfish Tommy presented a bunch of flowers to his beautiful colleague and said: 'I think I'm falling in love with you.'

The pretty girl screamed, 'Would you please stop it? I have no feeling with you.'

Selfish Tommy replied: 'So tell me, is there anything that makes you feel I'm not good? I promise I'll change it.'

The girl sighed: 'Tell me, is there anything that makes you feel I'm good? I promise I'll change it.'